

The APS College of Forensic Psychologists (SA Section) are pleased to announce the 1st Professional Development Event in our Seminar Series for 2017:

Reflections on the Royal Commission

A dinner with Royal Commissioner, Margaret Nyland

This dinner event will provide an informal forum for Margaret to discuss her experiences as a Royal Commissioner investigating the adequacy of the child protection system in South Australia.

She will reflect on her biggest challenges, and how the content of the material impacted upon her. She will also consider some of the main recommendations and how these changes may directly impact upon those working in the field.

This dinner will provide an opportunity for professionals in the area of child protection and forensic psychology to gain a stronger understanding of how the Royal Commission has shaped the current child protection landscape in South Australia.

When: Wednesday 26th July 2017, 7pm

Where: The Hackney Hotel,
95 Hackney Road, Hackney

Cost (includes dinner): APS Student $30, CFP Member $50, APS Member $60, Non Member $70.

RSVP essential as numbers are limited – Online registration will be available soon
